

Talk:Visioning

Hi, I am going to include in my material information from the first article (Envisioning the future). - Oana S

Hey, this article is supposed to look in the end as a single work piece so you should continue writing about what a vision is, definitions (maybe extracting here all the info from the second article for this subject), how do we create visions, what do they use for, how we use them and so on. As you can see, I wrote only about the envisioning process so that you can complete the article. Also, you should add the text before my references part and then complete the references with what you have used as information sources. - Oana S
